

Review Activity 2: Why did WWII break out in the Asia-Pacific?

Name: _____

Class: _____

Date: _____

Instructions:

Japan's attack on Pearl Harbour on 7 December 1941 marked the formal outbreak of war between Japan and the United States. As we have seen in this chapter, tensions between Japan and the United States had been brewing for many years as a result of actions by both countries and the historical circumstances.

Consolidate your learning by creating a mind map to categorise the historical developments that led to the outbreak of WWII in the Asia-Pacific. Use these categories: (i) actions by Japan; (ii) actions by the United States; and (iii) historical circumstances.
