Section A [10 marks]

Question 1

Carefully read the text below, consisting of 12 lines, about climate change. The first and last lines are correct. For eight of the lines, there is one grammatical error in each line. There are two more lines with no errors.

If there is NO error in a line, put a tick (✓) in the space provided.

If the line is incorrect, circle the incorrect word and write the correct word in the space provided. The correct word you provide must not change the original meaning of the sentence.

Examples:

I arrived to my destination at 2 pm.

.....at.....

My mother always wears sensible clothes.

.....✓.....

In many places, extreme weather events have grown more frequent or intense and is the threat not just to humans, but also to animals and crops. Heat waves are getting more and more overwhelmed and dangerous. Some cities are facing threats of constant floods, but droughts are depriving others of water. Not only can these events cause fatalities and injuries, but they can also cause infrastructure damage, lost of livelihood and the spread of diseases. This erratic climate conditions can also cause crop failure and threaten the global food and water supply. Many of the countries that are the most vulnerable to the climate crisis are also among the poorest place in the world, and are already struggling to cope with existing issues such as famines. Adverse climate conditions in these areas may also cause people to leave on large numbers, creating mass migration and instability concerns. What the world do now can determine how much the future generations will be disrupted.
